

There Goes My Hero partners with Ulman Cancer Fund for Young Adults & Delete Blood Cancer/DKMS

In addition to their mission of changing lives by creating a community of support for young adults, and their loved ones, as they fight cancer and embrace survivorship, The Ulman Cancer Fund provides a college scholarship to students across the country. In order to be eligible to receive a scholarship, one must either have been treated for cancer or have had a parent or sibling be treated for cancer. As part of the scholarship, Ulman recipients are required to complete community service. Read More

A Taste of Success

Oh what a night! February 20th, we celebrated at the 4th Annual Taste for Life, held at the Pier 5 hotel. Each year this event has grown and enables us to bring awareness to our mission. Thank you to Net Equity Financial, Inc., ProfitComm Telecommunications, Radcliffe Jewelers and State Farm Agents Lee Greenhowe and Aaron Slater. Read More

New approach to chronic lymphocytic leukemia treatment

Date: March 14, 2014

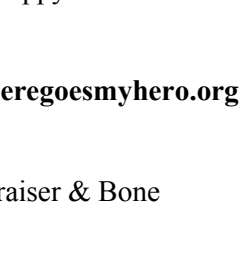

Source: Norris Cotton Cancer Center/Dartmouth-Hitchcock Medical Center

A novel and unique approach to treating Chronic Lymphocytic Leukemia (CLL), a form of blood cancer that often requires repeated chemotherapy treatments to which it grows resistant, as been developed by scientists. Unlike other novel therapies that have shown promise in the treatment of CLL, this approach is unique because it does not directly target proteins within the B-cell receptor pathway, but instead uses novel model systems that reverse the pro-survival effects of the microenvironment. Words of Hope – The Fringe benefit of RSV

After enduring the RSV treatment in March, and mentally getting over being hospitalized for another 5 days, I was back at home beginning to recover again. There was one fringe benefit to having the RSV. When I came to Hopkins for out patient treatment, I had to be quarantined. This meant I had my own personal room, which was larger and more private than the general outpatient center. Read More

Our Goals for 2014

The mission of There Goes My Hero is to restore hope to leukemia patients and their families through increasing bone marrow registrants, providing nutritious meals, and supporting blood cancer research.

Our goals for 2014 are:

* Register 1,000 new bone marrow donors to the national registry.

* Provide over 1,000 meals to patients.
